Day of BioMedical Research

November 13, 2019

On November 13, the Day of BioMedical Research will take place with its award ceremonies and poster exhibition.

The deadline for the submission of the applications for the Johanna Dürmüller-Bol DBMR Research Award and of the abstracts is Monday, August 19, 2019.

Johanna Dürmüller-Bol DBMR Research Award 2019 (CHF 30'000)

The aim of this research award is the support of a young researcher from the Faculty of Medicine, University of Bern.

Poster Exhibition

All students and members of the institutes and clinics of the Faculty of Medicine, University of Bern and of the Inselspital engaged in research are invited to submit an abstract and present a poster of their work.

Poster Prizes of the DBMR (CHF 2'000 each)

From the posters presented, three works of young researchers will be selected and awarded with a prize. The submitted abstract will be evaluated together with the poster. The three prizes will be awarded for:

- the best preclinical project
- the best clinical project
- the best project by a medical student

New: Prize for the Best Paper published in 2018 (CHF 2'000)

In addition to the three poster prizes, a prize will be awarded for the best paper published in 2018. The paper will be evaluated by the jury for the Johanna Dürmüller-Bol Research Prize.

Research Prize Alumni MedBern (CHF 2'000)

The Alumni MedBern will honour a poster with its abstract as the best collaboration bridging the gap between university and non-university partners, between basic and clinical research.
