

DBMR Technician of the Year

The prize is awarded to recognise and celebrate the skills and experience of the technical staff at the DBMR and their contribution to the biomedical research.

DBMR Technician of 2025

At the DBMR Day of BioMedical Research 2024 on July 2 2025, it was announced that the winner of the DBMR Technician of 2025 Award was:

Adrian Segiser

Department for BioMedical Research
Cardiovascular Diseases

This award recognizes his exceptional dedication, technical expertise, and integral contributions to the Cardiac Surgery Translational Research team over more than a decade, where his innovative problem-solving, tireless support of complex experiments, and pivotal role in knowledge transfer and lab operations have significantly advanced the team's research impact and cohesion.

The DBMR congratulates Mr. Adrian Segiser for the award!
