

DBMR Technician of the Year

The prize is awarded to recognise and celebrate the skills and experience of the technical staff at the DBMR and their contribution to the biomedical research.

DBMR Technician of 2026

At the DBMR Day of BioMedical Research 2026 on July 1 2026, it was announced that the winner of the DBMR Technician of 2026 Award was:

Matthias Brunner

Department for BioMedical Research
Lung Precision Medicine

This award recognizes his outstanding contributions across research, computation, safety, mentoring, and community building. His exceptional dedication and expertise have earned repeated independent endorsements from multiple groups of the Lung Precision Program, underscoring his pivotal role in advancing collaborative success and impact.

The DBMR congratulates Mr. Matthias Brunner for the award!
